

Restoring Spirit in Life Today 16th May 2020 Synthesis

This is a communication based on a webinar that was held on May 16th 2020 in lieu of a real time gathering in London booked for that day to explore this theme.

It was a remarkable unity of experience and a harmonious sense of onward movement was generated. It seems that this period of lockdown has prompted a dawning sense of our deep interconnectedness with each other and with all life forms, especially those in the natural world, there for us to respect and nourish rather than exploit and destroy.

We feel there were several conclusions:

- That small groups meeting in this way can enable beautiful networks that are not hierarchical and that are generating a synergy of vision and purpose which is calling us to act locally, feel globally and think cosmically. This will generate the synergy that is needed to enable us to discover new ways and resist a return to the old normal
- There is a strong sense that Spirit is now coming out of institutions and landing in the home and local communities. It is therefore needing new language and new rituals to anchor this in new ways
- There is a growing heart awareness of the importance of love and kindness, generosity and compassion in all our connections and relationships that enables us to promote well- being and discover new ways to transcend old paradigms so as to embody the new
- The vital role of daily gratitude for Life which includes the kingdoms of nature and multi - dimensional levels of being
- That each of us is a bridge to the new and by being our true selves we need to wake up, sit up, listen up, stand up...and be the change in each and every day

The Great Pause

*Let us take a moment to pause.
A pause within this time of the 'Great Pause'
This time, when the world has come to know stillness and the value of turning within.*

*Let us take a moment to reflect
On this turning point, within this time of the 'Great Turning'
As we feel the full potential of what lies ahead.
Like a chrysalis that hangs by a single thread,
Imagining its life to come, as a butterfly,
So too, are we hanging by a single thread, imagining
A golden pathway for the future of Humanity.*

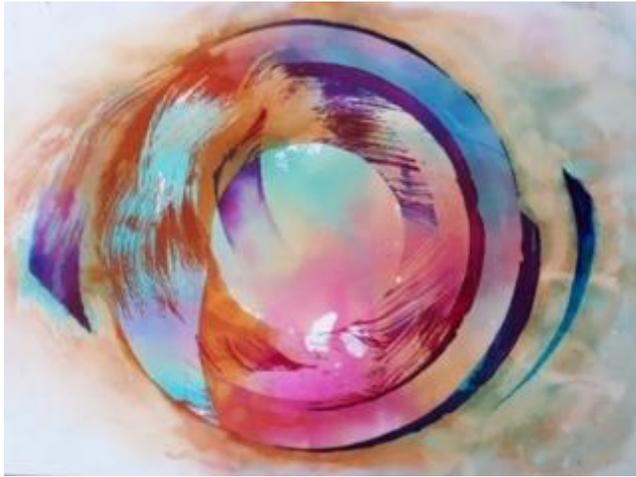

*So let us now begin to move our language
From the language of alienation, to the language of inclusion
From isolation, to connection
From distancing, to intimate sharing
From locking down, to rising up
From masking our faces, to revealing our true beauty
From protecting our bodily health
To embracing our spiritual well-being.*

*We know that the only true contribution we can make
Is to bring about the transformation our heart desires for the world
In the crucible of our own inner being.
For this is where the magic of transformation will begin.
The soul of humanity will become visible
When we see that, and become that, for ourselves.*

*So let me take a moment to reflect
On what my experience of 'love in the time of Coronavirus'
Has meant to me.
What gifts has it brought to ease my weariness
What insights about myself have been laid out clearly for me to see What challenges have shaken me to my core
As I have faced my fear and re-invented it, as love
What epic acts of courage and citizenship
Have I witnessed in my community
As neighbourhoods, cities and whole countries
Have re-discovered the Karuna, the loving compassion
In this time of Corona.*

*Let me sit and simply be, with all that is moving around me
The still point, in the turning world
The eye, at the centre of the storm
Where the eternal part of my essential self
Remains unchanged, remains forever still and strong
Let the light I carry within me, carry me forward
Shining the path ahead,
Showing me the way to journey towards the Light of Love, the light the Truth, the Light that simply Is, Forever and Unchanging...*

(a song sent by Hannah Hardy)

*Golden ocean, summer breeze
Watch the waves and watch the trees You are the ocean, watch the waves you are Not bound by them
So let them free and just see that there is no hierarchy*

*(Unchanging and free, just be Unchanging and free
Just let yourself break free
Unchanging and free, just be)*

*You are the sky the clouds are just thoughts
Wipe the sky free away from your shadows
Break the illusion, remember you're truth
And you will be eternal proof
Eternal proof*

(chorus)

*We are not fighting against,
for we already know
We just don't put it on show
Just spread your wings and fly
To the truth within you and I
Truth within you and I*

(chorus)
